

Characters

All stories have characters: the people, animals, and sometimes even objects who play out the action of the story. Before you begin your story, bring your characters to life. If you need to, you can always change them as you write your story.

Here are some common things to put in character descriptions. Add some more of your own as well. Do one for each character in your story.

Name: _____

Age: _____

Physical description: _____

Lives in: _____

Lives with: _____

Personality: _____

Wants: _____

Conflicts: _____

Friends/allies: _____

Problem: _____

_____:

_____:

_____:

_____:

_____:

_____:

_____:

_____:
